EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Michael J. Guzniczak (Reg. # 59,820) on 09 September 2008.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 36, line 10: change "any of claims 1 to 35" to "any of claims 1 to 15 and 17 to 35"

In claim 37, line 11: change "any of claims 1 to 35" to "any of claims 1 to 15 and 17 to 35"

In claim 38, line 11: change "any of claims 1 to 35" to "any of claims 1 to 15 and 17 to 35"

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed 28 July 2008, with respect to the rejections of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejections of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) have been withdrawn. The combination of Kristy (US-5,218,555) in view of Quinion (US-5,978,559) and Yagi (US-6,393,206 B1) is not seen to fully teach the limitation "a queue for job files corresponding to customer orders, a queue for record images, and a queue for print files are each continuously polled in parallel." Quinion teaches parallel polling to update button information and the number of jobs in each sub-queue, but the aforementioned limitation is not seen to be taught by Quinion in combination with Kristy and further in view of Yagi.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-15 and 17-38 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 is a method for authoring a CD-ROM. Over a first path, data is scanned and processed, desired images are selected by a user who can also select adjustments to be made to the pictures, and the resultant images are combined into a record image. Over a separate second path, the record image is transmitted and written onto a CD-ROM. While the writing is being performed over the second path, the data scanning and recording is performed for another customer order. Further, separate queues for job files corresponding to customer orders, record images, and for print files are each continuously polled in parallel. This arrangement has the advantage of efficiently scanning, processing, and writing record images onto CD-ROMs, without the usual requirement for waiting until the CD-ROM is fully written before scanning and processing another order.

The closest prior art is the previously cited combination of Kristy in view of Quinion and Yagi. Said combination does fully not teach the limitation "a queue for job files corresponding to customer orders, a queue for record images, and a queue for print files are each continuously polled in parallel." Further, Examiner has not found prior art which anticipates claim 1 and/or renders claim 1 obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. Accordingly, claim 1 is deemed allowable over the prior art.

Claims 2-15 and 17-33 depend from claim 1, either directly or indirectly, and therefore contain the allowable subject matter found in claim 1. Claims 2-15 and 17-33 are therefore deemed allowable at least due to their respective dependencies.

Claim 34 is a method for authoring a CD-ROM and contains the same allowable subject matter as found in claim 1. Therefore, claim 34 is deemed allowable for reasons similar to those given for claim 1.

Claim 35 is a method for authoring a CD-ROM and contains the same allowable subject matter as found in claim 1. Therefore, claim 35 is deemed allowable for reasons similar to those given for claim 1.

Claims 36-38 each incorporates, by multiple dependencies, the subject matter of claims 1-15 and 17-35, which are allowable, and are therefore also allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
